

Coventry intervention: How to help with talking and listening for young people with ASD, ADHD or tics

At the moment, this is available for those people with a COVENTRY GP ONLY. You cannot self-refer for this intervention. Please discuss the possibility of a referral with a professional and they can make a referral to our services using our usual referral forms, requesting this intervention.

What you will learn

- We will explain what communication is, how communication difficulties may occur, and why some children with potential neurodevelopmental problems (including ASD and ADHD) have communication difficulties;
- Strategies will be discussed which are likely to be more successful to help children with their communication difficulties;
- Examples will be given of the use of strategies to support children to manage their communication difficulties.

How you will learn

We will try to make the session as interesting and useful as possible, however, with limited time the information session will be mainly listening to information given by facilitator. All the parents at the workshop will be facing similar problems with their children's difficulties. You will not have to talk to the group as a whole unless you want to. There will be time for questions throughout the session.

Who will lead the workshop?

One of the clinicians below will run the group:

Penny Thompson, Speech and Language Therapist - Penny qualified in Speech and Language Pathology and Therapeutics in 1988. She has worked in paediatrics for 27 years and has worked in special education, community, hospital and clinic setting. Penny has also worked with pre-school children with special needs and in a primary school with special provision. She completed the Advanced Certificate in Special Education (children/autism) at the University of Birmingham in 2004. She has delivered lectures to nursing students and post-qualification nurses at Coventry University on ASD and language and mental health. Penny joined CAMHS in 2002, and has been part of the autism team since then. Penny is responsible for autism assessments, ADOS assessments, communication interventions, as well as jointly running the parent ASD/anxiety group.

Ceri Whisker, Speech and Language Therapist - Ceri trained in Speech and Language Therapy in 2008. She has worked with children with a range of communication difficulties and has a special interest in pre-school children with autism. Ceri has worked in Coventry since 2009 and joined the Neurodevelopmental Service in January 2015. Ceri assesses pre-school children in their home or education placement, does ADOS assessments and runs parent information sessions on communication and the pre-school post diagnosis Jigsaw session.

Training for excellence in the NHS

Sometimes we will also have trainees and students observing us in the sessions so they can learn about our work and develop their skills. This is a very important part of their training but if you or the young person would prefer not to have them in a session, please let us know when you arrive for the appointment.

Practical arrangements

Due to commissioning arrangements this intervention is available for those with a COVENTRY GP ONLY. When you arrive for your session, please check in at our reception desk and a member of the team will meet you there.
